WILLIAMSPORT, Ind., Oct. 20.— It was expressed today that the removal of spikes laid by the conductor of a Wabash eastbound passenger train No. 2 near here last night caused the death of three persons, the injury of seven others and the destruction of seven coaches by fire. The train left St. Louis at 5:30 p.m. yesterday for Buffalo and New York.

The express was expressed by conductor Frank H. Hulbert of Detroit, and a number of passengers said the conductor said the rail was not removed from its place, but the spikes had been loosened. Some one who knew the operation of railway signals must have tampered with the rail according to Hulbert, as the wiring was left in its place, so as not to disturb the signals. Passengers on board the train also reported seeing looking at the rail, that they believed some one had removed the spikes.

"MY SWORD IS IN MY

TELLS THRONG AT STATION

LONDON, Oct. 20.

By the Associated Press.

"M" was the keynote of the

farewell of Prime Minister Lloyd George to a great throng which gathered at St. Pancras station to give him an enthusiastic send-off as he depart- ed for Leeds today to deliver an address tomorrow.

"They're a healthy, active lot," said George P. Vierheller, secretary of the Zoological Board of Control, in charge of the Zoo. "We have put the lion cubs on bottles now. The cubs are quite an addition."

On March 17, 1920, St. Patrick's day, three lion cubs were born to Hans and Gretchen, lions, again are the parents of triplets,

while Dolly presented the Zoo with the leopard twins.

CASE OF KLEINE ON FRAUD CHARGE GOES TO JURY

Treasurer of Coal Firm, on Stand in Own Behalf, Denies He Got Any Money by Cheating City.

SAYS BRICHLER MADE $1 A TON ARRANGEMENT

Admits Rosenheim Was Paid $25 a Month "to See That Company Got Square Deal in Weighing."

The case of Edwin F. Kleine, treasurer of the St. Clair Coal & Mining Co., on a charge of conspiracy to obtain money by false pretenses, by selling coal short-weight to the St. Louis City Water Department, which has been on trial in Circuit Judge Killen's court since Tuesday, went to the jury today.

Kleine and his father, Frederick W. Kleine, president of the coal company, were indicted jointly on the conspiracy charge with John M. Brichler of Belleville, secretary of the company, and Milton B. Rosenheim, weighing clerk in the city Water Department. Rosenheim, who confessed that he falsified weights for the coal company for a consideration, was convicted by a jury last April and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

The charge against Brichler was nolle prossed, and he appeared as a witness against Rosenheim and Kleine.

Kleine Takes Stand.

Kleine took the witness stand yesterday and denied having received any money by cheating the city in the period of time covered by the indictment, which alleged that between Dec. 24, 1918, and Jan. 19, 1919, the city paid the coal company $322 16 for 22,000 pounds of coal which it did not receive.

"Did you at any time enter into an arrangement with Weigner Rosenheim whereby he was to receive money from your company for falsifying the weights of coal deliveries to the St. Louis water works?" he was asked by Assistant Circuit Attorney Johnson on cross-examination.

Objection to Question.

Kleine replied in the affirmative and started to explain his answer when his counsel, Sigmund Bass, objected to the question on the ground that it was not confined to the period of time covered by the indictment.

After the objection had been overruled, Kleine told in detail of a visit he made to the waterworks at Bis-sell's Point in December, 1917, after the coal company, he said, had discovered that the coal weights registered at the waterworks were lower than the weights registered by the railroad scales in East St. Louis. He said Rosenheim offered to "throw the weights so they would show an excessive tonnage, and that he agreed to pay him $25 a month for that service so that the company would get a square deal." He said an arrangement to pay Rosenheim $1 a month, additional for every ton over the correct weight was made by Brichler, secretary of the company, who, he said, had directed him to see Rosenheim.

Brichler, recalled to the witness stand in rebuttal, testified that Kleine's testimony regarding how he was directed to go to the water works was false.

De Palma's Jail Term Stayed.

MERCED, Calif., Oct. 20.—Ralph de Palma, who was to have served a 10-day sentence in jail for speeding in Madera County, was granted a stay of execution until Dec. 1 by Justice of the Peace. De Palma pleaded he was under a $50,000 driving contract, the terms of which demanded his services until Thanksgiving day. He gave bond to appear after his contract expired.

Berryberry Shipping Experiment.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—An experimental shipment of cranberries has arrived here from the Atlantic coast. It was shipped on the steamer Deerfield. This fruit was delivered in excellent condition after three weeks in transit. The consignees said the berryberry proved it was cheaper to ship cranberries by boat than by rail.

COMMITTEE WOULD PERMIT ST. LOUIS TO EXPAND LIMITS

Constitution Convention

Body on Counties and Cities Would Grant Larger

Measure of Home Rule.

MINORITY OFFERS A DIFFERENT PLAN

Would Make St. Louis a City Within the County and Make Possible Extension of Limits.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 20.—Report of the Constitutional Convention Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns recommending changes in the present Constitution which would give large measure of home rule to the chartered cities of the State, enable all cities of 2000 population or more to adopt charters, and open an avenue for expansion of the city limits of St. Louis into St. Louis County will be presented to the convention today by W. H. Jackson Jr. of Troy, vice chairman of the committee. All of the members of the committee signed the report, though some of them with reservations as to certain portions of it.

Elmer Kiel is associated with his father in the brick contracting business. He confirmed the report of the engagement today, but declined to give details and would not say where Mrs. Prestin is visiting. It is understood she came here to attend the Veiled Prophet ball and remained for a visit.

Both Mrs. Prestin and Kiel have been divorced. It is understood they became acquainted about a year ago, during one of her visits to St. Louis.

The section of the Constitution on county boundaries provides that counties may give or receive territories from other counties, after a majority of the voters in each has consented, to an extent which will not reduce either by 410 square miles. This means that St. Louis could obtain from St. Louis County another 77 square miles, if the county now contains 457 square miles. Such an expansion, however, would more than double the area of St. Louis, delegates are informed, as their information is that St. Louis now contains about 60 square miles.

Jackson in filling the minority report said in part: "The minority is in favor of the majority report so far as it affects the change in boundaries or consolidation of counties and the establishment of new counties, but in as much as it relates to the minority, we are of opinion that the same does not relieve the city of St. Louis of the restraint imposed upon its power of expansion as a city. In fact, it leaves the city in exactly the same position in which we find it, the only city in the State of Missouri which is denied the right of expansion as the growth of the city demands."

The minority of your committee has carefully considered numerous projects designed to accomplish the result which the majority section recommended will accomplish.

We find that none of them are satisfactory or will tend to bring about the desired result. It is the intention of the minority to give to the city of St. Louis the same right of expansion that is possessed by every other city within the State. It is the opinion of the minority that this right cannot be satisfactorily granted in any other manner than that contemplated by the proposed additional section, that is, by combining the county and city of St. Louis, making the city a county and the county restoring to it all the rights possessed by other cities of the state in extending the right of extending its boundaries in such manner as may be prescribed by law."

Borough Plan Rejected.

This did not completely satisfy any member of the committee but was a compromise between various views. The borough system in use in New York and a number of other places had been offered by Jackson, however, declared that the plan adopted, while it favors it as far as it goes, does not go far enough, being merely a temporary expedient, which would mean that the present situation, doubtless unforeseen when the constitution of 1875 was adopted, will continue until the time when the legislature shall have power over them, and that the same will be done by the legislature.

The Legislature, however, evaded that intent by creating special classes of cities until the revised statutes of 1919 disclose 22 classes of cities, many of which classes contain only one city.

On that point former Circuit Judge Daniel G. Taylor of St. Louis, chairman of the committee, in a statement filed with the report, said: "It is needless to suggest that the reason why the different classifications were made was in order that the Legislature might pass laws applicable only to one city. This enabled a small group of citizens in a city to secure legislation of their own desiring without the consent of the people of the city and sometimes without even their actual knowledge."

In order to circumvent this practice, your committee following the possession of states has classified the cities in the constitution and has prohibited the legislature from passing laws which are special or local, and has sought to use clear and unequivocal language in declaring powers which shall be possessed by cities. They have also enumerated some powers but have qualified the powers granted by stating that the grant shall not extend to matters relating to state affairs as distinguished from those relating to the affairs or government of cities.

No Secession Possible.

The committee has constantly borne in mind the distinction be-

SAYS LAUMEIER CASE MUST GO TO
NEW YORK COURTS

Attorney Declares Missouri
Tribunal's Decree Could Not Affect Child Whose Paternity Is Disputed.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Carruthers Ewing, counsel for Mrs. Byrd Shoemaker, divorced wife of Herman Henry Laumeier, wealthy St. Louisan, predicted that the contest between Laumeier and his former wife over the paternity of the boy known as Herman Henry Laumeier Jr., 2 years and 9 months old, will be settled in the New York courts.

The attorney said that, as Mrs. Shoemaker and the child are residents of New York, the decree of a Missouri court could not affect the Laumeier case, a proceeding in the St. Louis circuit court, asking that the issue of the child's parentage be determined there. His former wife had previously instituted, in a court here, a proceeding to require Laumeier to support the child and to pay her $5000 for its past care.

As has been told, service was obtained on Laumeier in the New York suit when he stepped from the steamship Aquitania at a later date, here.

Jackson in filling the minority report said in part: "The minority is in favor of the majority report so far as it affects the change in boundaries or consolidation of counties and the establishment of new counties, but in as much as it relates to the minority, we are of opinion that the same does not relieve the city of St. Louis of the restraint imposed upon its power of expansion as a city. In fact, it leaves the city in exactly the same position in which we find it, the only city in the State of Missouri which is denied the right of expansion as the growth of the city demands."

The Legislature, however, evaded that intent by creating special classes of cities until the revised statutes of 1919 disclose 22 classes of cities, many of which classes contain only one city.

On that point former Circuit Judge Daniel G. Taylor of St. Louis, chairman of the committee, in a statement filed with the report, said: "It is needless to suggest that the reason why the different classifications were made was in order that the Legislature might pass laws applicable only to one city. This enabled a small group of citizens in a city to secure legislation of their own desiring without the consent of the people of the city and sometimes without even their actual knowledge."

In order to circumvent this practice, your committee following the possession of states has classified the cities in the constitution and has prohibited the legislature from passing laws which are special or local, and has sought to use clear and unequivocal language in declaring powers which shall be possessed by cities. They have also enumerated some powers but have qualified the powers granted by stating that the grant shall not extend to matters relating to state affairs as distinguished from those relating to the affairs or government of cities.

No Secession Possible.

RUM TRAFFIC LAID TO U. S. ATTORNEY'S OFFICE IN CHICAGO

Illinois and Chicago Bar Association's Investigators Say Misconduct Charges Are Well Founded.

ATTORNEY CLEARED OF PERSONAL BLAME

Declared He Must Be "Entirely Freed of Possibility of Political Control" in Setting Matters Right.

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Charges against the conduct of the offices of the United States District Attorney at Chicago were found to be well founded by Edgar B. Tolman and John R. Montgomery, representing the Illinois and Chicago Bar Associations in a report to Attorney-General Daugherty, made public today.

Responsibility for unsatisfactory conditions in the office was not charged against District Attorney Charles F. Cline, the incumbent, personally, however, but the investigators recommended a reorganization of the office; appointment of a special prosecutor to dispose promptly of pending cases; that the District Attorney be made responsible for the selection of his assistants and their subsequent conduct, declaring that there can be no enforcement of the law until the District Attorney is "entirely freed from the possibility of political control."

Trade in Liquors.
The investigators found that "there is not the slightest doubt that ever since the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment there has been traffic in intoxicating liquors, organized on a large scale and protected by bribery and corruption."

The investigation was undertaken as a result of a petition filed a year ago before Federal Judge George J. John V. Cline, then an Assistant District Attorney, who charged that "no bills" were returned when indictments could have been obtained; that cases were nolle prossed and dismissed when they should have been tried; that law violations were reported but never referred to a grand jury; that there had been a systematic and protected traffic in beer and other alcoholic beverages, and that certain lawyers had received advanced information from cases and had received unusual fees, although their names did not appear in the records."

Accepted Fee From Hotel Men.
One of the cases which the examiners discovered in the files was that of a special assistant district attorney who had accepted a fee of $1,000 from John Leboeck, general manager of the Great Northern Hotel, in a prohibition case, and had sought to obtain an additional fee of $2,500 while still holding his official position. The report said that Leboeck was called in Cline and that Leboeck told Examiner Hicks he had retained the $1,000, and that he did not consider that his official position barred him from practicing in the federal courts.

Have You Piles?

Then You Have Something to Learn.

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any treatment of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was first to find the remedy. His prescription—Mucinol is now sold all drugstores. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in 1000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent, and then decided it should be sold under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of Mucinol from Wolf-Wynne today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you—it seldom fails.

DIVORCE DENIED TO WIFE, 65, MARRIED FOR 39 YEARS

Circuit Judge at Clayton Advises Couple to Patch Up Differences and Dismisses Suit.

Time is not proof against the possible troubles of matrimony if the divorce proceedings which Mrs. Katie Bennett, 65 years old, of Bridgeton, brought against her husband, George, 69 years old, after 39 years of married life, can be taken as an example. Circuit Judge Wurdean, who heard the testimony of both yesterday, advised them to patch up their differences and dismissed the case.

Mrs. Bennett testified for about three hours, saying her husband had become morose, indifferent and quarrelsome in the last few years. He is a mechanic, but has not had steady employment for two years. She testified that several days ago she tested that several days ago she had saved, without accounting for it to her.

Judge Wurdean refused to hear any more testimony, and the dismissal followed. The Bennetts have five adult children.

PREDICTS AIR MAIL PROGRESS

Official Believes It Will Come Between Points 500 Miles Apart.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 20.—Aerial mail service between all important cities of the United States where the carrying distance is more than 500 miles may be expected within the next five years, declared Col. Paul Henderson, Postmaster General, during a short visit here last night. Col. Henderson and a party of Postoffice Department officials passed through on their way to New Orleans.

The object of the visit to New Orleans is to complete plans for installing hydraplane mail service from New Orleans to the mouth of the Mississippi River to enable the transfer of mail from New Orleans to Gulf steamers when mail is delivered in New Orleans.

Union of Coffee Growers Advacuated.
President of the International Union of Coffee Growers, and an agricultural bank with branches throughout Central and South America, has been recommended to the Government of El Salvador, Central America, by Rafael Garcia Escobar.

It's Louis' counsel. He said it was recommended that the banks be under Federal supervision. The purpose, he said, is to increase the production of coffee and protect small growers from money-lenders.

CHICAGO COMMITTEE CHARGES COLLUSION ON COAL PRICE

Claim That Operators, Distributors and Railroads Work Together to Maintain High Cost.

HERRIN, Ill., Oct. 26.—Collusion among coal operators, distributors and railroads to maintain high prices for Illinois coal is charged in a report. The Chicago City Council subcommittee on high costs expects to submit its return from an inspection of bituminous coal fields in this district. It was announced last night by Alderman E. J. Kaindel, chairman.

"The coal operators, the dealers and the brokers are working together to bleed the consumer," Russell Poole, secretary of the committee, asserted. "Soft coal is selling for 10 per cent more than before the coal strike. There is no justification for this price."

St. Louis Has Advantage Over Eastern Cities

Many articles that are sold at retail in New York are manufactured in St. Louis. Upholstered furniture which is manufactured by Prentiss-Witten Furniture Co. is sold extensively in the East. This same furniture may be bought at their retail store at Fourth and St. Charles direct from the factory. During their sale of sample suites amazingly low prices prevail on living-room, dining-room and bedroom suites.

Hunted for Slaying Woman

Husband Exchanged Shots With Them as They Fleed.

By the Associated Press.

BRISTOL, Okla., Oct. 26.—Howard Sayler and Buck Kendall, said to be a relative of the man who was being sought in the woods near here for the slaying yesterday of Mrs. Sallie Scott, wife of R. L. Scott, a farmer.

Mrs. Scott was shot in a field by Sayler and Kendall, according to Scott. Sayler said he exchanged shots with the two men as they fled. A dispute between Sayler and Scott over the possession of a cow had been in progress several weeks, authorities said.

MAN COVICTED OF KIDNAPING WOMAN WITH ASSAULT INTENT

Nebraska Day Chase in Which Airplanes Were Used.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 20.—Fred Brown faces a sentence of life imprisonment for kidnaping Mrs. Jean Jenkins, 21 years old, with intent to assault her. He journeyed yesterday to the verdict of guilty.

Other charges pending against Brown are kidnaping with intent to assault Miss Kathryn McMansman, who, with Mrs. Jenkins, was chained in Brown's shack near Benson, a suburb; assault against Harry E. Boyd, who went to the assistance of the two women, and stealing an automobile.

Brown accepted a ride with Brown in an automobile and, instead of taking them to a local park, Brown forced them to accompany him to his shack, where he fastened them in chains, put them in a hole under the shack and attacked them.

The woman was a 24-day chase during which Brown eluded airplanes, automobiles, posse and bloodhounds.

Finally, Brown was shot by Wyoming officers 62 miles north of Medicine Bow, Wyo., June 17.

Brown denied he had kidnaped the women, and said they had gone to the shack of their own accord, as he alleged, they had several times previously.

Girls! Wear Smaller Shoes and With More Comfort. You Can.

The Magic Touch of Ice-Mint Dries It.

This winter girls will be wearing smaller and prettier shoes than ever.

Thanks to a new discovery called Ice-Mint, the feet will soon be a thing of the past.

Ice-Mint is a clean, snow-white preparation made from pure Japanese mint, camphor and camphor oil, which soaks and relieves the sensitive burning feet, reduces the swelling and makes the feet feel smaller.

Ice-Mint takes the sting out of painful corns, calluses and blisters. You will just sigh with relief.

What wonderful relief! Ice-Mint is a joy forever to those who are obliged to stand on their feet all day. Just a touch of the mint at night and instantly the feet feel cool, comfortable and relaxed. No person out of a grouchy foot suffers in just two minutes by the clock.

No more foot trouble. Ice-Mint will bring you relief and comfort. Ice-Mint costs little and is good value. It is good for good druggists everywhere. There is nothing better.

"I-H" Flour
Is considered unexcelled by all who try it.

"And they lived happily ever after"

Mr. Fred Williams rose at 7:15. He was decidedly out of sorts and he didn't care who knew it. Mrs. Williams and the cat took refuge in the kitchen.

Fred cut himself shaving—there was no hot water for his bath—the soap slipped out of his hand, as soap will do—doggone it, the whole day seemed to be starting wrong.

Then suddenly he stopped and took a long, soul-satisfying breath.

Mrs. Williams was making coffee. The aroma of it—the mellow fragrance of it—the irresistible appeal of it came floating in to Fred with its glad "good morning." It was like the handclasp of some old and trusted friend.

From that instant all was well fit the Williams household. "Feeling fit as a king," said Fred as he kissed his wife good-bye. "I tell you, there's nothing like a good cup of coffee to cheer one up in the morning."

Mrs. Williams, being a clever little woman, smiled happily and made a note on her daily calendar.

POLICE INQUIRY INTO FIRE AT PLACE PICKETED BY STRIKERS

Damage of $2000 Estimated at Albert H. Bertram Decorating Co., on South Grand.

Police are investigating the cause of a fire which apparently started in the basement of the Albert H. Bertram Decorating Co., 3013 South Grand boulevard, at 10:45 last night. They say the place has been picketed for some time by striking union decorators.

The building is a two-story brick and stone structure, drawing a number of automobile and residents of the neighborhood. Bertram estimated the damage at $1500 to the stock and $500 to the building.

Fire of undetermined origin caused about $2500 damage this morning to a small frame building at the City Sanitarium, 5309 Arsenal street, used as a school for wards of the Juvenile Court. The blaze was discovered at 6:50 a. m. Construction of the building was started several weeks ago and workmen were finishing it this week.

A fire discovered at 3 a. m. today in the blacksmith shop of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, on Robert street, east of Broadway, is also under investigation by the police. The damage was estimated at $800.

FARMER ENDS LIFE AFTER TERRORIZING FAMILY ALL DAY

Wife Fled When He Deliberately Audibly Whether He Should Kill Her as Well as Himself.

Fred Scherff, a farmer living at Prairieville, Ill., seven miles north of Edwardsville, after terrorizing his family all day with a shotgun, killed himself last evening as Deputy Sheriffs approached to arrest him. He leaned over the muzzle of the gun, pulled the trigger and received the charge in his head. Scherff had been an inmate of the State Hospital for the Insane at Jacksonville, Ill., until three weeks ago, when he was sent home apparently cured. Yesterday morning he told his wife that he had decided to kill himself. She endeavored to dissuade him, and hid all weapons on the place. Shortly before noon she found a shotgun and seating himself on the well curb, debated audibly whether he ought to kill his wife as well as himself.

She fled to the home of a neighbor, and summoned her son, Fred Scherff Jr. His father menaced the young man with the gun as he approached him and took refuge in the barn.

When Mrs. Scherff telephoned to the Sheriff's office in Edwardsville, As deputies approached, Scherff killed himself.

a country.
Eric came here as a stowaway on a ship from the Orient last August.
He was ordered deported as likely to become a public charge. But when the time came to actually deport Skog, there was a hitch. According to immigration officials, Skog could not be sent back to the Orient because authorities there refuse to allow him to land. He cannot be sent to Sweden, the land of his birth, as because of a law which requires that a person has remained in another country 12 years he cannot retain Swedish citizenship. So Skog is held at the immigration detention station here. He has begun a legal fight to remain in this country.

Al opens his bag of tricks!

YOU know Al Jolson—sure thing!
Well, Al uncorks a new angle with his November new process Columbia Record. It's "I'll Stand Beneath Your Window To-night and Whistle." He does!

This Jolsonitis song sets us back to days when we all beat it to the church fair to get first crack at the grab-bag and the fish pond. Why? Just for a surprise!
That's the way Al hits you on this new round—and the number fits him like a tailor-made.

But at that you're only half done, for
on the other side there's the popular Van and Schenck team warbling "When You and I Were Young, Maggie Blues"—new,
novel, peachy in the blue-streak line!
Ask for Columbia new process Record
A-3694. 75c. And go home happy!

These new Columbia Records are typical of the all-star Columbia Monthly Program that's out to-day—each number flawlessly reproduced to give you melody unmarred by scratch or scrape or other surface sounds. The new Columbia Records are ready at Columbia Dealers, waiting to be played for you. Tear out the list now. Take it in and listen to this delightful collection of latest selections.

BALLOTS FOUND IN YARD IDENTIFIED BY VOTERS AT HEARING

Witnesses in Election Fraud Case Say They Were Cast in Regular Way at Wells-ton Polling Place.

WATCHER BARRED FROM POLLS, HE SAYS

Deputy Sheriff Testifies He Was Told Essen Had Ordered That No One Should Stay With Officials.

The preliminary hearing of Eugene Carty, John W. Copeland, Thomas J. Casey, Charles Curren and James O'Neill, on charges of obstructing ballots from the polls at the Wells-ton polling place in the primary election of Aug. 1, and making false election returns, was begun today in the court of Justice of the Peace Stein at Maplewood.

Four Democrats, who voted for Reed for Senator, identified fragments of the ballots they had cast, but which were found afterward in the back yard, mutilated. Another witness identified his whole ballot, also found discarded.

Mrs. J. J. Powell, who was appointed as a Democratic precinct official, testified that she was not allowed by the men at the polls to serve, and that Curren seemed to be in charge of these men. Curren, she said, elected a Deputy Sheriff from the polls.

Other Cases Under Adjudication. The Justice took under advisement the case against John F. O'Connor, Earl Giebe and D. H. Mudd, charged with obstructing ballots at Darby Hill. Weil, who was a precinct voter, was testifying other ballots and making false returns. At 10 a. m. Monday, he will announce whether he will bind the defendants over or give the State a chance to present the precinct poll books and tally sheets in evidence, if it can get them.

Amandus Brackman, special assistant to the Attorney-General, said he would ask a court order for the production of these records. The Supreme Court had prohibited the use of these records before the grand jury, and it may be necessary to obtain permission of that court to attain the State's desire. It has been learned that the State may seek a modification of the order to use these records before the grand jury.

"Not Allowed to Stay." Not Sheriff William Fuller testified he had credentials to be a watcher inside the Darby Hill polls, but was told by O'Connor that no one would be allowed to stay in there with the officials, "by order from Fred Essen." The county political machine, which carried its slate in the primary, is "bound" by law. Fuller said that he had directed five men in an automobile, including O'Connor and Giebe, how to find the polling place primary day. Under the law, precinct officials are supposed to be residents of the precinct.

Thomas Murray testified he saw a man who he thought was O'Connor in the polls, with some object inside his white silk shirt which made a bulge. H. Weigel testified that he helped recover two or three dozen mutilated, voted ballots from the back yard of this polling place after the primary. A number of witnesses yesterday identified some of these ballots as those they had cast.

Says He Was Ordered Out. Walter Jaquith, who conducts a store and cobble shop in the building at 4201-3 Hamburger avenue, where this polling place was, testified that he was appointed a judge for this precinct and also as a special Deputy Sheriff to see that the election laws were obeyed. He said he was ordered out of the polls and told he could have the rest of the deputy's badge he wore. He went to Clayton, he said, and registered as a deputy. On his return, he declared, O'Connor asked him: "Did the 'boss' send you back?" Frequently, he asserted some of the other five judges would leave the polls, sometimes going away in an automobile. He testified that when he helped recover the votes, he was told to do so by O'Connor. He said he was ordered out of the polls and told he could have the rest of the deputy's badge he wore. He went to Clayton, he said, and registered as a deputy. On his return, he declared, O'Connor asked him: "Did the 'boss' send you back?" Frequently, he asserted some of the other five judges would leave the polls, sometimes going away in an automobile. He testified that when

and demonstrates a powerful voice of extraordinary range and clarity.

"Dangerous Ages" was the subject of a subtly satirical and wholly entertaining address by Dr. Augustus G. Pohlman of St. Louis University, which was one of the series of talks scheduled for Station K S D by the St. Louis Medical Society.

In the dangerous ages, the speaker said, are the periods of change from youth to maturity and from maturity to old age. Addressing himself in quaint humor how the men and women verging on middle age begin to take notice of their physical condition, deluding themselves into the belief that they are as young as they used to be, and then try to make good this belief by all sorts of youth-producing devices, exercises and games, he passed on to the boy and girl who have engaged so much of the public's attention of late—the so-called "flappers" of both sexes.

"The dangerous time of life," Dr. Pohlman said, "is the age when individuals begin to take a comprehensive inventory of the house they live in—the body. They inventory their past deeds, and misdeeds, with a view of what still remains. This is the age when people begin to experiment with themselves because having discovered that they have slipped, they begin to wonder how far. They begin to ask questions. Too many questions make for trouble. People who ask too many questions are not busy enough to keep out of mischief."

Use of Common Sense.

"The dangerous thing about the dangerous ages, and clearly there are two of them, is that young-old folks and old-young folks tend to jump the tracks of convention. They tend to do those things which are not considered proper according to rules and regulations of the game of life as it is played."

"The dangerous ages are the transition periods of life,—the change from youth to maturity and the change from maturity to old age. Just as the irresponsible youth rebels against accepting the responsibilities of the matured so the matured irresponsible individual rebels a modification of his life to conform with that of an older age."

In closing he advised all old and young alike, not to make experiments but to use some good old-fashioned common sense.

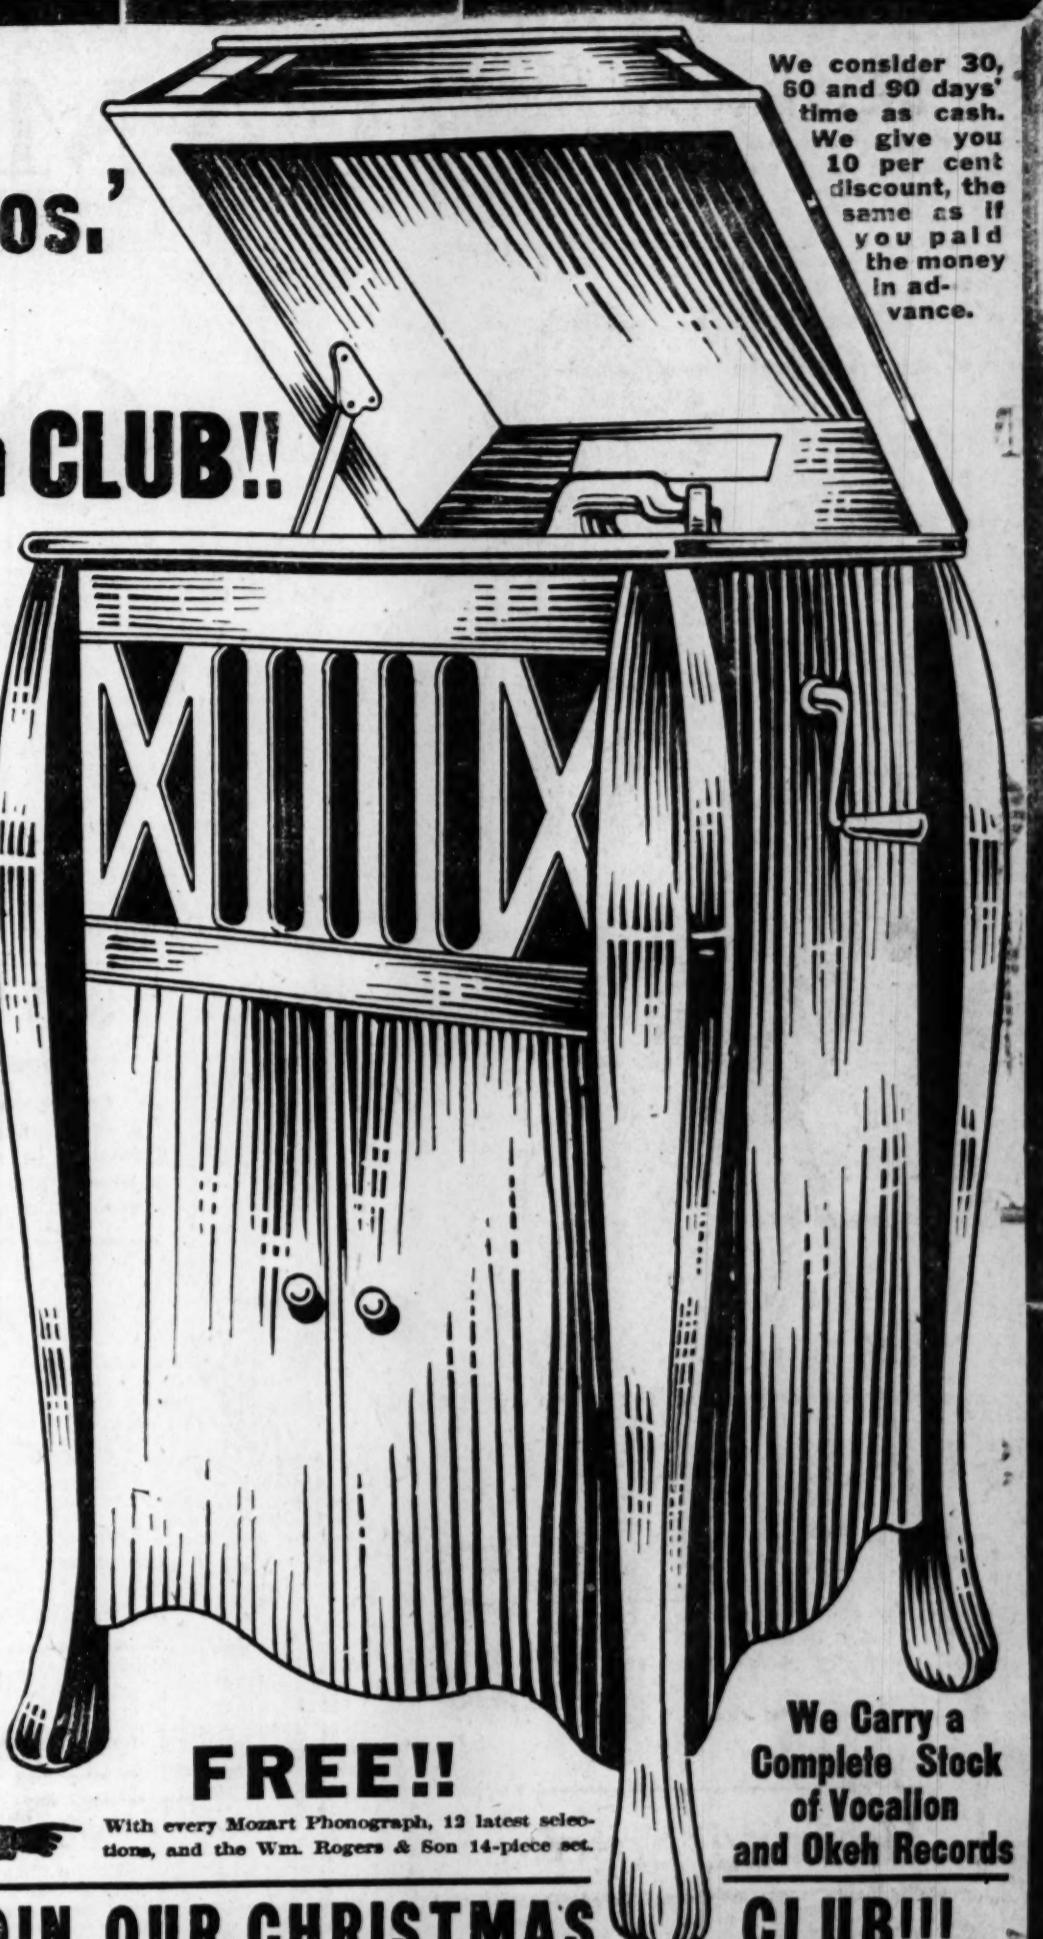

LEGION POST SUES FOR WAR FUND

PALM CITY, NEB., Oct. 20.—A local City Post No. 109, American Legion, today filed suit, said to be the first of its nature in Nebraska, seeking to recover $2,192, the unexpended portion of a $10,000 fund raised by local subscription during the World War for comfort of the home boys in camp. The Red Cross local chapter contends legal disposition of the money can be made by none other than the National Red Cross headquarters. A recent poll of 500 citizens showed all in favor of turning over the money to the Legion.

BREWSTER WELL RECEIVED IN WET 'GERMAN' COUNTIES

Candidate for Senatorship Makes His Drive for Votes With Straightout Republican Talk.

SIX TOWNS VISITED,
THREE SPEECHES MADE

Reed Challenged to Show by His Official Record That He Ever Seriously Opposed Volstead Law.

By CURTIS A. BETTS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

STE. GENEVIEVE, Mo., Oct. 20.—With his speech last night in Ste. Genevieve, R. R. Brewster, Republican candidate for the United States Senate, completed a two days' campaign of three so-called German counties, Cape Girardeau, Perry and Ste. Genevieve, in which he visited six towns and delivered three speeches.

Contrary to the general belief that there is a very wide spread defection in the Republican party in the German counties, in two of the three there appears little probability that Senator Reed will succeed in getting any considerable number of Republican votes, and in those two counties there are strong indications that Reed will be scratched by a considerably larger number of Democrats than will Brewster by Republicans.

Wet Sentiment Overcome.

These counties are Cape Girardeau and Perry, where very militant Republicans have been candidates with a record of successful organization records behind them have succeeded to a very large extent in overcoming the wet sentiment among Republicans, for Reed and the very general pro-Reed sentiment resulting from Reed's record in the Senate than will Brewster by Republicans.

In Ste. Genevieve County, the situation is not quite so favorable for Brewster as in the other two counties, but it is evident that by election day Republicans will be pretty well in line for the entire ticket. While the only opposition from Republicans to Brewster in these counties is placed upon the ground that they believe Reed is wet and Brewster inclined to the dry side, only a brief conversation with almost any of the anti-Brewster and pro-Reed Republicans leads one to conclude that either of Woodrow Wilson and administration for Reed because of his long continued opposition to Wilson is really the controlling cause of the opposition. Brewster, if he realized this situation, chose to virtually ignore it in his speeches yesterday and to make his drive for these votes with a straightout Republican talk. "As for me," Brewster said, "I am just the same every place in the State. I explain my position, which is that we must amend the Constitution of the United States, all in amendment, including the eighteenth, and all the laws of the United States must be reformed so long as they are the law."

Wouldn't Violate Oath.

"Do not vote for me with the expectation that I will violate my oath of office, because I will not do it. And I do not believe that you would want me to do it. You are law-abiding citizens and you believe in public officials keeping their oaths."

Senator Reed sends Senator Caraway of Arkansas down into those counties to tell the voters that Reed favors beer and wine. He sends various speakers throughout the State to tell the drys and the women in voters that Senator Reed would not change the eighteenth amendment or the Volstead law, if he could, and that he couldn't if he would.

"Do you think that is playing square with you? The candidate who would seek by deceit and by lies to hoodwink any class of voters will be false to you if he is elected."

Suggestions As to Reed.

"I suppose you look up the Senator's record, and then you write to him and ask him what he has done over done for the wet since the Volstead law was passed. If you will examine the congressional record you will find that he made a speech in the Senate in which he said he had not seriously opposed the passage of the Volstead law, and you will find that he has not offered any amendments which had for their purpose the bringing back of beer, wine and whisky."

In Perryville yesterday afternoon an audience of nearly 1,500 persons heard Brewster. A plan to have the meeting in a theater, which would seat only 500, was abandoned when it was realized that not half the crowd could get in, and Brewster spoke in the open air from the courthouse steps.

Perry County has one of the hard-working County Committees in the State. Its chairman is Ralph J. Killian of Perryville, but much organization work in the county is done by Sam Bond, a Perryville

About Chain Stores.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

NOTICE in a recent Post-Dispatch that an organization has been formed the purpose of which is to curb the activities of chain stores and particularly those dealing in foodstuffs. The poor people of this city and this country have been burdened with ever-increasing prices since 1914. It is very hard for them to "get by" in supplying their families with food. I have been a patron of these chain stores and still am because I can get my groceries cheaper there than in the other old-time regular grocery stores. I have several mouths to feed and I assure you that the difference is vital matter with me. This organization says it fears the chain stores will monopolize food products. Now if these new stores can offer food to the consumer at much lower prices, on what possible pretext can an appeal be made to us, the consumers, for support? If monopoly means cheapening the necessities of life, then I am for it. An investigation will doubtless disclose the fact that there is "a bigger in the woodpile" in this movement and that there is nothing but selfish and monopolistic motives behind it.

MRS. M.

St. Louis Makes Him Tired.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

JUST read Frank O. Boyd's letter in last night's Post-Dispatch, he is certainly right regarding St. Louis traffic laws. I recently came here from Portland, Ore., where they do have some traffic laws, and here countless times I have come near being knocked down by autos "cutting corners" at intersections. As in all Western cities autos have to go around the center of the street before turning.

The demagogic appeal is the worse in view of the fact that the Hyde administration is not on trial in the election. The election of Senator Reed because the Hyde administration accomplished a lawful and necessary reform which increased their formerly inadequate taxes is a sordid and misleading appeal. It ignores law and facts and conditions in order to gain votes.

The demagogic appeal is the worse in view of the fact that the Hyde administration is not on trial in the election. The election of Senator Reed because the Hyde administration accomplished a lawful and necessary reform which increased their formerly inadequate taxes is a sordid and misleading appeal. It ignores law and facts and conditions in order to gain votes.

I read later where they are talking of improving the section around Union Station. I heard something about that when I left St. Louis 12 years ago, and what was my surprise when I came back to see the same old scenery on all sides of Union Station, and even worse than it had been! St. Louis needs someone to poke it in the ribs and wake it up. Those impressions a stranger must surely have arriving in St. Louis must surely be anything but nice. As for me, I am so disgusted with the city on the whole, I think I will soon turn westward again, where at least I can cross the streets knowing which way an auto is going.

JACK WILSON.

The Bond Issue and Conventions.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

YOUR editorial of Oct. 14, on the bond issue covered the subject admirably, and as director of membership and publicity for the St. Louis Convention, Publicity and Tourist Bureau, I want to thank you for your good work. Since New York has mentioned a number of delegations for the city because of the municipal auditorium and community center building we will be in a position to invite a convention or exhibit of almost any size to come to St. Louis.

Last year we had over 200 conventions here with an attendance of over 200,000 delegates and visitors, who spent nearly $2,000,000 in St. Louis for expenses only. We are the third convention city in the United States now, but with the recent additional hotel facilities and the auditorium, there is no reason in the world why we should not be the second convention city—and perhaps we may make it hot for New York, which leads, and may even take first place.

FRANCIS E. TURN.

Taxicab Stands.

THE public must be protected by ordinances which can operation, which also protects the public's rights, and the cab owners' investment. One facility cab operators must have to render the best and cheapest service possible, is well distributed stands.

Correctly located cab stands, contrary to past opinions, greatly relieve congested traffic and give cab operators an opportunity to make their services most efficient. In the places where stands are needed most, when these stands are manned by the city as they should be, it also permits the proper revenue to be secured by the city and proper scrutiny made into the qualifications of those who make application for this license.

We feel certain that you will be quick to appreciate this situation and contribute your moral and actual support to any movement which will provide more and better stands in your city.

W. L. KRONBERGER.

Yellow Cab Co.

Reed and Grover Cleveland.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

It seems to me that the anti-Reed Democrats are doing their best to elect a Republican Senator. Also that all St. Louis newspapers are doing the same. So Mr. Brewster has powerful backing.

One of our greatest Presidents, Grover Cleveland, had the same trouble in his party, but was twice President.

A. C. M.

TAXATION DEMAGOGISM.

The attack of Senator Reed and his associate Democratic campaign orators on the Hyde administration for equalizing the tax assessments of property on a cash value basis is discreditable. It is demagogic.

Senator Reed appeals to the farmer vote on the ground that the assessment of farm lands in most of the counties was raised. But they should have been raised. Under the administration of Democrats property throughout the State was unequally assessed in violation of the Constitution, which required that assessments should be made at cash value. The assessments ranged from 15 per cent upward to full cash value in St. Louis and other cities. Gross inequalities existed in assessments. The burden of the State Government was unequally distributed, some counties receiving more from the State than they paid in.

The effect of this system of unequal assessments not only deprived the State of revenue and thus under the Major administration plunged the State into practical bankruptcy, but deprived the counties of revenue sufficient to support schools and make public improvements.

The result was a State deficit which Gov. Gardner had to make up by new and increased taxation, wretched school houses, poorly paid and incompetent teachers, and bad roads.

The raising of assessments to cash value, which the Hyde administration had the courage, honesty and sound judgment to accomplish, was offset by the reduction of the rate of taxation for State purposes. The revenue raised for the State was less than that raised by the Gardner administration. Local taxes for county and town purposes were, however, raised and the aggregate of taxation was greater than before, but the larger local taxes were easily paid for schools and public improvements. They were justified, but if the people were dissatisfied with the heavier taxation they should visit their disapproval on local officers, not the State administration.

Senator Reed poses as a defender of constitutional law. Is not the Constitution of Missouri as important within its sphere as the Federal Constitution? The Constitution of Missouri requires that property be assessed at cash value. Democratic administrations have violated the Constitution and the Hyde administration put it into effect. How can Senator Reed condemn an administration for obedience to the Constitution without stultifying himself?

The action of the Hyde administration in adopting the cash value standard of assessment in accord with the Constitution has corrected a gross inequality which worked injustice to a great body of taxpayers.

It was necessary to raise the revenue needed to maintain rural schools and county improvements. To appeal to rural taxpayers to vote for Senator Reed because the Hyde administration accomplished a lawful and necessary reform which increased their formerly inadequate taxes is a sordid and misleading appeal. It ignores law and facts and conditions in order to gain votes.

effrontery in approaching the Olympian heights was so grimly rebuked. The outraged gods melted the wax with which Icarus had fastened his wings and dropped him into the sea. The audacity of the original birdman is now approved after so many centuries. Or, was the imagination of the ancients that ran to riotous fable a sort of prophecy? Anyhow, by way of perpetuating Icarus, might we not call Lieut. Maughan Quickarus?

LLOYD GEORGE'S FALL.

The fall of the Lloyd George Government has long been foreshadowed. The Near East crisis, in which the Prime Minister was accused of serious bungling, served as the occasion for the Unionists' withdrawal from the coalition, but it was not the cause. The cause lies deeper. The coalition was an emergency form of government which, under the resourceful genius of Lloyd George, maintained itself so long that it threatened to destroy the identity of the parties. The point made by Bonar Law explains the situation. "It is more important," he said, "to keep our party united than to win the next election."

With the passing of Lloyd George the last of the Big Four disappears. Orlando was the first to go, then Clemenceau, then the repudiation of Wilson. Each of those men performed prodigiously, but of the four Lloyd George was the Atlas who carried the world on his shoulders and apparently thrived under the burden. After his seven Herculean years he is today as fresh and vigorous as when he assumed the specially created post of Minister of Munitions and took over the task in which Kitchener had failed. At Manchester, a few days ago, Lloyd George carried the fight to his critics with all the verve of a youngster's love of battling. And because of a temperament and virility so buoyant and inexhaustible the master of writing the little Welshman's political epitaph may well be postponed.

True, his return to power seems problematical, if not impossible, at this distance. He has no actual party affiliation now, though at Manchester he spoke as a Liberal. But he has behind him a record of enormous and arduous things done. The difficulties he has met and surmounted, or temporarily shelved, are without parallel. Both at home and abroad the way of his premiership has been an almost uninterrupted series of crises. That he changed front frequently, as necessity required, is undeniable, but the fact that he remained in power so long and so successfully is pretty nearly a political miracle.

The condition is dead, but Lloyd George isn't buried.

STRAIGHT GOODS FROM ALLEN.

There is to be no trammeling in Gov. Henry J. Allen's dealings with the Ku Klux Klan. His answer to the unspeakable brutality and contempt of law exhibited in the abduction and beating of Mayor Schermerhorn of Liberty, Kan., is an order to his Attorney-General not only to exhaust all means of apprehending the perpetrators of the crime but to take whatever legal steps are necessary to drive the klan out of the State.

Here is the strong hand of law enforcement and outraged justice where such a strong hand is needed. There is no plumbing of the political depths to find out just how strong the klan is, who its friends are and what is the strength and drift of public opinion. There will be no toleration of an organization which is proved to be engaging in crime.

The stand of the Governor has precedent in law.

Organizations advocating destruction of property and criminal syndicalism are already under the ban of the law. Organized mistreatment of the persons of citizens is an even more dangerous class of crime. Gov. Allen's industrial court law is to be taken as a model to be recommended to other states by the American Bar Association if a present investigation by representatives of the association culminates as expected. Will Gov. Allen set an example also to timid executives and peace officers in serving an ultimatum on organized violence of the masked variety? Such an example is needed.

FROM ICARUS TO QUICKARUS.

Lieut. Maughan, winner of the Pulitzer trophy race at Mount Clemens, Mich., last Saturday, in which he attained a speed of 206 miles an hour, has since made a new record of 248 miles. Speed hardly an adequate term for such a flight; it suggests, and, indeed, approaches, the projectile's velocity.

SORRY if I hurt your feelings, P. V. In your latest concoction there seems to be a slight taste of acerbity. You call me Bricklayer,

as if you were the contractor building the tem-

be a bricklayer or a brickmason any time than

try to delude people into believing that some-

You say I said the universe is a soul! Didn't say any such thing? I didn't know.

"I never maintain"

that I am consciously active, in fact, have not maintained it. I don't know. It certainly has no soul like some human souls I know of.

And I do hope you are not too old to continue your studies and learn that, instead of being the "produced, finite dependent" thing you say is in the universe is in truth decidedly unpro-duced, infinite and independent.

You emphatically declare that I had a begin-

If you say it was produced from nothing you

This is one sharp issue that New Jersey

DECISIONS IN TWO LABOR INJUNCTION SUITS ARE UPHELD

Judge Faris Sustained in Restraining Trunk Leather Workers and Denying Order to Employing Tailor.

RECENT OPINION OF TAFT CITED

Interstate Commerce Held to Have Been Affected in Trunk Case but Not in Tailoring Case.

In decisions handed down by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in two injunction suits against St. Louis labor unions, District Judge Faris is upheld in having granted an injunction against the leather workers' employees of five St. Louis trunk factories, and he is also upheld in having refused an injunction against the union tailors, sought by an employing tailor.

The ground of the two decisions was that, in the trunk factory case, interstate commerce was affected, giving the Federal Court jurisdiction, and that in the tailoring case, interstate commerce was not shown to be affected, and hence the Federal Court lacked jurisdiction.

In both cases, the recent decision of Chief Justice Taft of the United States Supreme Court is cited by the judges of the Court of Appeals. In the trunk case, presiding Judge Sanborn of the Court of Appeals wrote the decision. Judge Munger concurred, and Judge Stone filed a dissenting opinion. In the tailoring case, Justice Triebel wrote the decision, and Judges Carland and Munger concurred.

History of Leather Workers' Case.

The injunction against the leather workers, forbidding picketing and other interferences with the trunk factories, was granted by Judge Faris in 1920. The companies obtaining the injunction were the Herkert & Meisel Trunk Co., James A. Quirk Trunk Co., P. C. Murphy Manufacturing Co., and the H. A. Kell Trunk and Case Co.

The ground on which the injunction was sought by the trunk manufacturers was that their goods were destined to be shipped in interstate commerce, and, therefore, that interference with them was interference with interstate commerce. On this point, Judge Sanborn says:

"When a contract is made for the sale of an article, and for its delivery in another state, the transaction is one of interstate commerce, even though the vendor may have arranged to manufacture the article in order to fulfill the contract. This has been held by the Supreme Court."

Interstate Commerce Defined.

"Interstate commerce is more than mere shipping of goods. It includes inter-state trade, or exchange of contracts, trades or dealing between citizens of the different states."

The evidence showed that the defendants (leather workers') purpose or intent was to interfere with the manufacture of goods. The five concerns, at the time of the injunction, had orders pending for shipments amounting to $327,000. The natural and inevitable effect of the prevention, by the defendants, of the making by the plaintiffs (manufacturers) of the articles which they had contracted to sell and deliver, was the prevention of their performance of their contracts, and the prevention of the prevention of their interstate commerce; and this result was so evident and unavoidable that the defendants could not have failed to know, to purpose and to intend that this should be the result. The conspirators must have held to have intended the necessary and direct consequence of their acts and cannot be heard to say the contrary.

Effect of the Contract.

"It is true that manufacture alone is not interstate commerce. But it is equally true that when manufacture becomes an essential part of the transaction, it becomes part of interstate commerce to such extent that a Federal court of equity is vested with the power, and subject to the duty, to enjoin the execution of a combination or conspiracy to prevent the performance of such contracts."

Judge Sanborn cites Chief Justice Taft's opinion in the Coronado coal mining case that "coal mining is not interstate commerce and obstruction to coal mining, though it may prevent coal from going into interstate commerce, unless the obstruction to the mining is intended to restrain commerce or has necessarily such a direct material and substantial effect to restrain it, that the intent must be inferred."

In the leather workers' case, Judge Faris' opinion in his dissenting opinion says: "In modern society, every part is related so organically to every other part that what affects any portion must be felt by the rest; therefore, unless everything is to be forbidden, and legislation is to come to a stop, it is not enough to show that, in the wording of a statute, there is some

RIDDLE-POLEMAN WEDDING TOMORROW

Marriage of Miss Leslie Price and Freen Nulsen Also to Take Place.

ONSPICIOUS among the week's social happenings will be the wedding tomorrow evening of Miss Georgia Riddle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Riddle of 5207 Lindell Boulevard, and Thomas T. Poleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Poleman, 5729 Clemens Avenue. The ceremony will take place at 7 o'clock at the Riddle home, with Chaplain Truman Post Riddle of Washington, D. C., a cousin of the bride, officiating. Chaplain Riddle came to St. Louis to perform the ceremony, and, with Mrs. Riddle, arrived last night. They are the guests of Chaplain Riddle's sister, Mrs. Philip Bond Fouke, and Mr. Fouke's wife, Mrs. Alice Fouke, who will keep open for them their home.

The bride is a graduate of Mary Institute and Oakmere, Maramon, N. Y.

AMERICAN HISTORY FOR AMERICAN CHILDREN

How Sir Francis Drake, a Mighty Soldier, Passed by the Sturdy Fighters of Tierra
del Fuego.

Schouten and Le Maire round the Horn.

By HENDRIK VAN LOON,
Author of "The Story of Mankind."

(Copyright, 1922.)

Magellan when he sailed around the world, between the years 1519 and 1522 had seen land to the south of him, but he had not tried to discover what there might be between himself on the South Pole. Whether these mountains belonged to another island or another continent, that he did not know. In the year 1526 the coast if this supposed island was further investigated and it was henceforth known as Tierra del Fuego or Fireland, because the first discoverers had seen a fire on the shores which told them of the presence of human beings. But who, or what or where these human beings might be, no one knew. When Sir Francis Drake passed through that part of the world (late in the sixteenth century), he found them to be of a very low state of civilization and very savage and terrible in battle. Therefore he left them alone for those natives who are savage and terrible in battle have a much better chance to hold their own than those who are kind and dexterous. This is very sad, but it is also very true.

Meanwhile the years came and the years went by and the power of Spain and Portugal declined and the power of England and Holland increased by leaps and bounds. The Spaniard, for many years, had made war upon the Hollander. Turn about is fair play. The Hollander now went after the possessions of his Spanish enemy. As Portugal was an ally of Spain the Dutch took as many of the Indian possessions as they could. And then to prevent competition, they founded a prosperous Dutch East Indian company, which was overcapitalized just thirty times and paid an average dividend of 21 percent during two centuries and a half. Also it was a very strict monopoly. This, of course, was not agreeable to the other Dutch merchants who remained outside the monopoly and they tried to find a little route of their own to the trading stations of the D. E. C. The charter of that company gave it the exclusive right of trade "by way of the Cape of Good Hope." The rivals hoped to have a new route of their own. Then they could laugh at their greedy competitors. In the year 1616, almost a hundred years after the death of Magellan, two small ships, commanded by Schouten and Le Maire sailed southward, passed the straits of Magellan (which they did not enter), and actually reached the southern most point of Tierra del Fuego from where they could at once sail into the Pacific Ocean. The Cape pass which they called Cape Horn-in honor of the little town of Hoorn on the Zuider Zee, which had been the home of Schouten. After a long and tedious voyage they actually reached the Dutch East Indies and were put in jail for their troubles and after an even longer and more tedious law-suit, their masters who had equipped the ships were adjudged guilty of an attempt to interfere with the legitimate monopoly of a rival company and were punished.

This was little to do with the story of America, except in an indirect way. Schouten and Le Maire corroborated Magellan and increased the general knowledge of the map of the great new continent. For a continent it was, as almost all people were now willing to confess, and the old island-theory of Columbus had come to naught.

COMMISSIONER NAMED TO ACT ON COUNTY ROW

Testimony on Mandamus Obtained by League Will Be Begun Monday.

The Supreme Court of Missouri today appointed James W. Booth of Pacific's special commissioner to take testimony in St. Louis County, beginning Monday, in the matter of the alternative writ of mandamus obtained by the Clean Election League in an effort to force County Clerk Seibel to place the Clean Election ticket on the ballot for the general election of Nov. 7.

Booth probably will take testimony in Clayton. It is indicated this will require him to travel many days, and from the speed with which the Supreme Court has handled the procedure, it is assumed a conclusion will be attained before Oct. 31, the last day for placing the ticket on the ballot.

An issue of facts, raised in Seibel's reply, filed today by his attorney, Joseph C. McAtee, necessitated the appointment of the special commissioner. McAtee, who had appeared as attorney for the objectors who made the original protest, was accompanied to Jefferson City by Seibel. John J. Johnson, a law partner of J. Porter Henry, attorney for the league, filed a reply to Seibel's answer with the Court today.

Seibel's answer denies that valid nominating petitions for the ticket were filed, and that he had refused to tell the league whether he would accept the ticket. It declares the petitions did not state the residences and qualifications of candidates and that non-residents and other unqualified persons signed the petition.

tions, and otherwise upholds the technical objections which had been made to him.

The protesters included three members of the Republican County Committee, of which Seibel is chairman, and one of whom is a clerk under Seibel. The machine dominates the committee. Clean Election League leaders regard the whole procedure as an attempt to frustrate their efforts for reform.

Cranberries Now!

Eatmor Cranberries

Enjoy the delicious, tart flavor of these health-giving cranberry preserves—every day in the year.

Cranberries are just as delicious for every day use as at holiday times.

Try this recipe:

Strained Cranberry Sauce

One quart cranberries, two cups boiling water, 1½ to 2 cups sugar. Cook the cranberries and water; then press through the strainer, keeping back the skins; add the sugar and simmer for 5 minutes longer. Do not use metal molds.

This makes a delicious and healthful spread on hot biscuits, bread, buttered toast, or cake.

Always cook cranberries in porcelain-lined, enameled, or aluminum vessels.

AUTO ACCIDENTS ARE FATAL TO TWO MEN

John Stube, 60, and Robert O'Brien, 50, Die of Injuries Suffered Early in Month.

Two deaths, resulting from injuries suffered in automobile accidents in the early part of the month, occurred today.

John Stube, 60 years old, of 1801 O'Fallon street, died at the city hospital at 9:10 a. m. of a fracture of the skull suffered Oct. 5, when knocked down in front of 1726 O'Fallon street by a machine driven by Howard Lee, 24, a negro, of 1023 North Thirteenth street. Lee was driving west, near the center of the street, and swerved to the south, the police reported, to avoid another machine. Stube, who was crossing the street from the south to the north, was struck and thrown against the curb. Witnesses reported that Lee was driving rapidly.

Robert O'Brien, 50 years old, a stone cutter, residing at 700 South Broadway, died at the city hospital at 10:30 a. m. from injuries suffered 12 days ago when knocked down by an automobile driven by Walter Schmidt, 1909 Lynch street, as he was crossing Fourth street at Cedar street. His skull and right leg were fractured.

Eight Hurt. Three Seriously, in Auto Accidents Yesterday.

Eight persons were injured, three seriously, in automobile accidents yesterday. Drivers of two cars sped away after striking pedestrians.

Miss Blanche M. Schultz, 48 years old, residing with her brother, Patrolman Paul Schultz, at 5027 Garfield avenue, was hurled about 25 feet when struck at Lindell boulevard and Euclid avenue at 6:30 p. m. by a touring car, which did not stop after the accident. She had compound fractures of the skull and of the right arm. Physicians at St. John's Hospital say her condition is serious.

Miss Schultz, in lucid intervals last night, told policemen she had taken only a few steps crossing from the north side of Lindell, when an automobile going east on the south side of Lindell, suddenly at the car's approach, struck her head. Police are searching for traces today in an effort to discover an automobile headlight into which three pieces of broken lens found at the scene, will fit. A Ford hub cap, picked up 100 feet east of the corner, may also serve as a clue, although witnesses told officers they did not believe the touring car was a Ford.

A Ford coupe, traveling south at high speed, knocked down Grville Moore, 17, of 812 South Broadway, at 6:15 p. m. from 1011 South Broadway. The machine did not stop. Moore suffered injuries to the left leg and cuts and bruises.

Townsend Nixon Jr., 17, a bank teller, residing at 8702 Clayton avenue, suffered a fractured skull when hit by an automobile driven by Fred H. Butinhoff, 43, foreman for the Grand View place, as he was crossing Oakland avenue and from a street car. Physicians at Barnes Hospital said his condition was serious.

FORMER NIGHT AND DAY BANK HEAD SEEKS CHANGE OF VENUE

H. H. Hohenchild's Attorney Applies for Severance in 19 Cases Against Him.

Application for a severance and change of venue was filed by H. H. Hohenchild, former president of the Night and Day Bank, in the nineteen cases pending in St. Louis against him. Arthur O. Melninger, former cashier, and seven directors, charging that they consented to the acceptance of deposits when the bank was insolvent, was made in Circuit Judge H. Kiloren's court today by H. Kiloren's attorney, Dr. H. Cullen, attorney for Hohenchild.

Circuit Attorney Sidenor, who was present only this morning of the intended motion, objected to its being filed on the ground that it is too late.
Judge Kiloren decided that he would consider it as offered only,
and would hear arguments on it at 10 a. m. Tuesday.

The motion alleges prejudices against Melninger which is reflected against Hohenchild.

Sidenor admitted that Hohenchild was entitled to a severance, and this was granted.

Change of venue was formerly taken in three cases to Linn, Mo., and when these cases were called for trial last week, Sidenor obtained a continuance to Oct. 30. The other 19 cases are set for trial here on Nov.
20.

FOG FORCES AUTO DRIVERS TO PARK CARS IN STREETS

Pull This Morning Over City Heavy fog in District East of Grand, at Natural Bridge and Hebert.

A dense fog that settled over the Fairground and O'Fallon Park residence districts early this morning seriously impeded street car and automobile traffic and was not dispelled so that vehicles could be operated with safety until after 8:30 o'clock.

The fog was densest in the district
east of Grand boulevard, particularly in Natural Bridge avenue and Hebert, and fifth streets, where heavily
travelled highways to the downtown district.

Scores of automobile operators parked their cars in Hebert street and Natural Bridge avenue, fearing to risk running, as objects were not discernible more than a few feet away. Those who did proceed formed a procession and moved very slowly,
tooting their horns, the only warning.

ing of their approach through the fog. The fog also hung over other parts

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands who Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.
Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula
of Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and other ills.Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing, vegetable laxative.It is the "keynote" of little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels to move normally. They never leave them to unnatural action.If you have a "dark brown mouth" and a dull, tired feeling which makes you feel like a "deadpan," you'll quickly get pleasant results from the use of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.
Thousands take them every night just to be right. Try them. 15c and 30c.Boys' 2-Pants Suits

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The cost of living, among wage earners, families in the United States, has resumed an upward movement, according to figures for September
compiled by the National Industrial Conference Board and announced
yesterday.A slight downward turn in August,
the statement says, was followed by an upward trend which made the figures in September 0.6 per cent higher than those for July, 1914, and 0.7 per cent higher than that in August. The level is now identical with that of July of this year.The announcement attributes the increase to a rise of 3.3 per cent in stable coal market.By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Retail
food costs for the average family
during September were approximated
one per cent lower than during August, the Department of Labor reported yesterday. The conclusion was based on reports of prices gathered at retail markets in 61 important cities, representing nearly all sections of the United States.During the year since September, 1921, the report said, the decrease in average food prices has amounted to 9 per cent, but since September,

WIFE OF MAN DENIED DIVORCE
NOW INITIATES PROCEEDINGS

William Card Swift, proprietor of Swift metal company at 3905 Franklin Avenue, who was denied a divorce last February after having tested that, though he was past 51 years old, his wife insisted on altering his clothing to resemble that of youths in fashion plates, has been granted divorce by his wife, Mrs. Pauline Swift, who resides at 1001 Washington Boulevard.

The alleges that her husband ignored her, was unsympathetic and domineering and imposed other indignities upon her. They were married in 1911 and separated a year ago.

WOMEN BREAK ANCIENT RULE

New Appreciation of Nurses' Work by Letting Them Enter Monastery.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

ERIVAN, Armenia, Sept. 20.—The famous island monastery of Lake Sevan, near here, which for 10 centuries has never permitted a woman to enter its gates, has ignored this time-honored regulation and extended the freedom of its grounds and buildings to three American women. They are Miss Grace Blackwell of Hamilton Square, N. J.; Miss Jean Vancouver of Philadelphia; and Miss Margaret Rose of Bowling Green, Ky. The three are now connected with the Near East Relief.

The breeding of the thousands of nuns of the monastery was in charge of the work which the three nuns have done for refugee

Armenian children located in the discord.

MAGNESIA FINE FOR ACID STOMACH

Quickly Neutralizes Acidity. Stops
Fermentation, Strengthens the Stomach.

When people in town, when food upsets
the stomach, causing distress, think that they have indigestion. In reality they are suffering from "acid stomach." An excess of acid in the stomach causes mahemorrhage, bleeding and ulceration.
Magnesia is a powerful antacid, capable of easily and normally digesting three hearty meals a day, yet simply must keep the stomach acids neutralized and the stomach contents sweet.
No artificial digestants are necessary.
Just a few ounces of Magnesia taken from a good drug store, and add a teaspoonful of the powder or two tablets in a half glass of water right after eating or drinking, will neutralize the acid in full. The result is amazing, and most people do not realize with the almost instant relief it brings. This acid stomach sweetener combines Magnesia and Magnesium carbonate in the right proportions and is not only a splendid digestive, but perfectly harmless. Its regular use keeps the stomach sweet, strong and healthy
all the time.

Magnesia is well known to draw out venereal poisons, especially when taken in large doses, and is also a valuable remedy for dysentery, diarrhea, constipation, etc.

"Draw Out Thy Soul to the Hungry, and Satisfy the Afflicted"

A LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

THE WHITE HOUSE

Washington

October 9, 1922.

Gentlemen:

Not since the great war has the whole civilized world been so shocked and startled as during the past four weeks. The terrible and appalling tragedy which has been enacted in the Near East, involving in its wake hundreds of thousands of shelterless, famished men, women and children, makes a call to the heart of the American people which cannot be ignored. From East, North, South and West have come to me evidences of the deep-seated desire of our people that something be done to give them an opportunity to crystallize their widespread sympathy into a life-saving service.

I am rejoiced to know that the great machinery of your organizations has already been started into action to the end that this great body of suffering souls may be rescued promptly from the threatened starvation and death which they face this winter.

All the people of America have given, and given generously, in every great crisis that has occurred in China, Russia, India, and all parts of the world, so they must give, and give a great sum now—millions of dollars—if the lives of these victims are to be saved. No appeal of real need from whatever part of the world has ever been made in vain to America.

Very truly yours,

WARREN G. HARDING.

A LETTER FROM THE NEAR EAST RELIEF:

New York, September 26, 1922.

Mr. R. J. Cuddihy,
The Literary Digest,
New York City.

Dear Mr. Cuddihy:

In the face of the unprecedented tragedy of Smyrna, we turn to you and the Literary Digest for help.

It is not for the thousands of dead that we plead; they are past our aid. It is for the living, crushed with despair of spirit and anguish of body that we turn to you and through you to the benevolent heart of humanity.

More than a half million absolutely foodless, shelterless, helpless and hopeless refugees are landed upon the islands, or huddled along the shores of the Aegean Sea in abject despair. Terror-stricken groups are awaiting death in Smyrna and other ports in Asia. Innocent, unprotected girls and women and children by tens of thousands are being carried into captivity.

Pestilence stalking among the living adds its horror to starvation.

Many in the nightmare of their crucifixion seek relief in self-destruction, while others find release in insanity.

While baffled by the perplexing political situation we can be true to our divine instinct of sympathy. Our sympathy, however, will become poison unless we transmute it into action.

The starving ask for bread—shall we respond with a heart of stone?

Sincerely yours,
JAMES L. BARTON,
Chairman.

A LETTER FROM THE AMERICAN RED CROSS:

Washington, D. C., October 9, 1922.

My Dear Mr. Cuddihy:
I have received from the President an earnest appeal to use the resources of the American Red Cross in meeting the distress and suffering resulting from the recent disaster in the Near East. I need not assure you that the Red Cross, as always, will put its large and influential membership back of this appeal. We, however, feel keenly the need of that type of co-operation which the Literary Digest is peculiarly able to give, and in behalf of the American Red Cross I request you to do everything that you can through your pages in placing the burden of this appeal before the American public.

Cordially yours,
JOHN BARTON PAYNE,
Chairman.

Mr. R. J. Cuddihy,
The Literary Digest,
884 Fourth Avenue,
New York City.

In immediate response the following editorial was published in The Literary Digest, October 21st:

DIVEN FROM THEIR HOMES by fire and sword—beaten, trampled, robbed—more than half a million men, women and little children are being swept along to starvation, madness and self-destruction in the Near East.

Hereded in the streets, like cattle for the slaughter; huddled on the brink of the sea, and casting themselves, crazed by hunger and fear, into the dark waters; dragged from the burning hell of Smyrna, only to be thrust by their rescuers into the slower hell of Mitylene, and Saloniki, and other havens of "refuge," which now are crowded centers of starvation and breeding-grounds of pestilence—these who are suffering such martyrdom have only one hope of salvation from their nightmare of crucifixion. That hope is YOU—Americans!

Thousands perished when Smyrna was bathed in torrents of blood. Now the city is a vast sepulchre of ashes. You can do nothing for the dead. But the lives of half a million others are yours today for the purchase.

revel in abundance and refuse to share it, to whom the Master said, "Woe unto you that are full! for ye shall hunger. Woe unto you that laugh now! for ye shall weep." And then you will seize gladly upon that other divine word of the Christ and send it across the sea with your speedy gifts to comfort and save, and your gifts will make good the message: "Blessed are ye that hunger now; for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now, for ye shall laugh!"

The Literary Digest well knows your good works: it well knows that you are tireless and always ready to save and to comfort. You will now respond instantly to this call. What The Digest has done while waiting to tell you the facts has been done in utter faith in you and your overwhelming response. The great ship Clontarf has discharged its load of food, and the starving fugitives have already eaten the bread baked from the flour in that cargo. It is you who did this, because when, on September 25th, a committee of the Near East Relief, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. called upon The Literary Digest to help in this awful emergency, and no funds were then available, we discounted our faith in you and borrowed the $176,000 and bought the entire food cargo of the Clontarf. We told the committee to keep on buying other shiploads of food until the pitiful need was satisfied. "He gives twice who gives quickly," and we are confidently depending upon you to make this act your own by a great outpouring of gifts to pay for this first cargo of food and to follow it with others. We appeal to all the churches in America that have been the depositories of the sacred ideals of our nation; we appeal to the thinking and working classes of our broad land, to all the institutions and organizations that have for their object the safeguarding of human rights and human lives. As God has blessed you, as He has given you happy homes and laughing children, as He has been merciful to you, have mercy upon these, His people.

The Literary Digest, standing shoulder to shoulder and heart to heart with you in this urgent task, will start the fund with its own contribution of $10,000 to help feed these starving fugitives. And now we urge all who read these words to send a perfect storm of checks to provide food, and shelter, and medical care for the half million sufferers in this awful inferno of the Near East.

They can never repay you—those homeless ones, those tortured women and pitiful children. You will never see them face to face, nor look into their eyes shining with gratitude—never? Yes, perhaps you will. But now, the blessed Christ bids you give, and He will repay, for it was He who said, "Do good and lend, hoping for nothing again, and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the Children of the Highest."

President Harding has appointed as a Special Committee, with Will H. Hays as Chairman, the following representatives of eight national organizations who will co-operate in this great work of relief: Dr. John R. Mott, of the Y. M. C. A.; Mrs. John French, of the Y. W. C. A.; James A. Flaherty, of the Knights of Columbus; Felix Warburg, of the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee; Dr. Robert E. Speer, of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America; Dr. James L. Barton, of the Near East Relief; Herbert Hoover, of the American Relief Administration; Judge John Barton Payne, of the American Red Cross; and R. J. Cuddihy, of The Literary Digest.

Why Waste Time Polishing Up the Tiger Eleven When Nebraska Has Promised It a Good Cleaning?

Claypool Will Not Start For Pikers Against Drake; Billiken Stars Still Out

Thornton and McCarthy Will Be Absent From St. Louis U. Line-up Against Cumberland Tomorrow Afternoon, but Other Injured Veterans Are Back in Form.

As the moment for the opening of hostilities draws nearer, the prospect for victory for Washington and St. Louis university football teams tomorrow grows more promising. Several days ago, as the teams went through their practice drill at Francis Field and Sportsman's Park, there was a shocking absence of regulars from the lineups and many of those who did run signals and scrimmage were limping.

Today it becomes evident that every effort to prepare his team for a furious battle, Drake is said to have this season one of the strongest teams that has represented the school in recent years. Its ability to down the big Kansas U. team 6 to 0 is sufficient evidence of the strength to make the Pikers wary.

The Billikens should have had a tryout against Cumberland, but the team's showing in two games thus far is to be taken as an indication of its power. In its first game, Cumberland battled to a 6-6 tie with Tennessee Poly and then came back last week with scoreless ties with Western Kentucky State Normal.

Lyle will be Washington's quarterback, with "Dutch" Mathes at full-back. Green and Thurmer will be the halves.

The Billikens will be minus the services of McCarthy and Thornton, regular linemen.

Both the Cumberland and Drake teams were due to arrive in St. Louis this morning, but the trains of both were reported late.

According to advices received from Nashville, Tenn., this morning, the Cumberland team met with a serious reverse yesterday afternoon when three players were injured, one critically, in an automobile smashup.

Cumberland stopped off at Nashville en route to St. Louis, determined to take advantage of every opportunity for practice in preparation of the meet in the hotel where the practice field is located.

One automobile used by the squad figured in an accident which resulted in a fractured skull for David Beck, a guard, and minor injuries to Roy Fleak and Sam Boone, also Beck's stripes.

There is but meager data available on the strength of the Cumberland team, but the record of the St. Louis University squad has taken nothing for granted. He has gone to great lengths to bring out his very best combination for Saturday's game and it is possible that he will add all of his regulars with the exception of Thornton and McCarthy.

At the Washington Field Coach Rider has also made arrangements to have the team ready to start at 2:30 p.m. Tickets for the game specify 3 o'clock as the starting time, but officials have pushed up the time a half hour in order to avoid darkness in the closing period.

The Billiken game will be started at 3 o'clock.

Tomorrow's probable line-ups follow:

St. Louis U. Position: Cumberland U.

Kelly... Left end ... Jolly

Quirk... Left tackle ... McDonald

Bethke... Center ... Howell

Kalkman... Right guard ... Davis

Dolan... Right tackle ... Blair

Halloran... Right end ... Williams

Schaefers... Quarterback ... Hibbert

McKinley... Left end ... Lester

Eggers-McConaughay... Right half ... Stader

Green... Right halfback ... McElroy

Fleak... Fullback ... Wesson

Washington U. Positions:

Boehm... Left tackle ... Denison

Quirk... Center ... Stroh

Prie... Right guard ... Howell

Lyon... Right tackle ... Davis

Dolan... Right end ... Williams

McKinley... Quarterback ... Hibbert

Beck... Left halfback ... Cudler

Mathes... Fullback ... Armstrong

and Central Wesleyan College remain to be named.

There are 19 players who make up the regular football squad at Principia. In addition to the letter men, there are three players assigned to them for the first time. They are as follows: Wilton Conway and John Everett, tackles, and Bertram Clark, quarterback.

Jimmie George and Warren Freeman, working at the center position, Academy. He was captain last year.

The guards consist of Capt. Preston MacDowell, Wallace Green, Jason Gandy and Donald Taylor. Vernon Schatz is back at his old tackle position.

Captain Marquard has four men for the end positions. Casimir is the only regular, but Niemoller, Garland and Gandy are alternates. Niemoller performed splendidly against McKinley last Saturday.

Garland does all the kicking for the team. Last Saturday he kicked six goals after touchdowns.

There are six substitutes available for the backfield positions. Bertram Clark, a new man, has been running the team and Karl Berninger, four-letter man of last year, is a substitute. He has been learning to start each game at halfback. Clifford Fitzgerald usually alternates with Rice. Edmund DeMolay is the sixth man. He comes up from the second squad last year and is a hard worker.

Team has hard schedule.

The team's schedule is a severe one. Games with Central, Blackburne, C. Cleveland, Western M. A.

Soldan Wins on A Blocked Kick

West End School Defeats St. Louis University High in 6-0 Struggle.

Soldan High defeated the St. Louis University High yesterday in one of the hardest fought high school football contests played here in some time, score 6-0. The teams were evenly matched and neither team showed to advantage over the other, as far as football concerned. Lady Luck was the deciding factor.

In the opening period Coach Boland's team kept the St. Louis University High territory for the full quarter, but was unable to push the ball closer than the eighth yard mark. Several passes were dropped in the shadow of the goal line. The second quarter was a repetition of the opener except that Soldan once recovered a fumble within the St. Louis territory.

Then the luck changed. In the third quarter St. Louis kicked the ball to Soldan, who advanced it to the 10-yard line, where he was tackled. Three squares, Miss Mauna, Buckley, Tasse, and Mrs. H. C. H. Tasse, ran up, allowing Soldan to score. The fourth quarter was a repetition of the third, with both teams fought widely. Soldan was twice held for downs on the St. Louis 10-yard line. The fifth quarter was a hammering affair, with both teams fought widely. Soldan was twice held for downs on the St. Louis 10-yard line. The sixth quarter was a repetition of the fifth, with both teams fought widely. Soldan was twice held for downs on the St. Louis 10-yard line. The seventh quarter was a repetition of the sixth, with both teams fought widely. Soldan was twice held for downs on the St. Louis 10-yard line. responsible for bewildering the Cochemes team was not a forward-pass eleven simply, although it made alternating the long pass to open up the defense with the short pass that closed it up again, only to make way for the long pass. Cochemes had a wonderful assortment of shift and trick plays and one of these was executed under most hazardous conditions.

This was against Nebraska. Ed Murphy recovered a Nebraska punt on his own two-yard line and a kick out of danger was the "of course" play to follow. The Billiken's first to kick formation, with Acker close up, as if to block off enemy players, might break through. The ball was passed and all eyes of the men were on the punter. But the ball instead was snapped to Acker, up there in the shadow of the line. The Billiken forwards opened a tremendous hole for him, through which he dashed 55 yards before being downed. That play added to the bewilderment of the Huskers, who became positively demoralized after that effort.

He Blazed the Way.

COCHEMES has been given little credit for the work he did here. It is nevertheless a fact that after 16 years they are still the ones that the lines had laid down in 1904. He was the pioneer in the forward-pass field which, for two entire years, he had all to himself. The world sneered at him, but remained to copy.

LEO MOULT WINS BELL

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The tennis tournament for the championship of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. came to a close yesterday when the final round of the singles was played. Leo Moulton retained his title as champion by defeating F. M. Leitch in straight sets. Moulton allowed only four games in the contest. The final score was 6-2, 6-1, 6-1. Yesterday's match was played at the Triple A Club. No doubles event was held this year.

JACK SAYS:

Long-Life Suits

Again and again customers come in wearing Jack Claris Suits, made four to six years ago—and they still look right because they were well cut to begin with—well-sewed—sewed to stay that way, and the materials were so good they gave the wear.

That's what it means to buy Jack Claris' Suits—long-life.

The knowing man—and there are lots of them—prefer my Suits because they wear better—hang better—look better and are more comfortable than even Suits of much higher prices.

Then isn't it good common sense to buy at a place where you can loan and get more?"

That place is right here, and now's the time to buy.

SIGNED U. R. AGREEMENT UNDER MISAPPREHENSION, MAN SAYS

Plaintiff, seeking $25,000 for Injury to Wife, Hints at Trickery by Car Company.

Circuit Judge Landwehr yesterday overruled a motion of the United Railways to set aside an order reinstating the suit of John F. Wooley, 3225 North Broadway, for $25,000 for injury to his wife in a street car accident.

Wooley, when the suit was reinstated, contended that he had been induced to sign a release releasing the United Railways from his claim under the impression that he was merely signing papers to expedite a settlement for $4500 made by the company with his wife, who had filed a separate suit for damages. Wooley cannot read.

Attorneys for the United Railways asserted that Wooley knew what he was signing, and had been given $100 for releasing the company. His counsel denies that he received this money.

STATE MAY PUT QUARANTINE ON EAST SIDE COUNTIES' WHEAT

Steps to Prevent Shipments Considered as Check to Grain Diseases.

A State quarantine on wheat, directed against Madison, St. Clair, Monroe and possibly Jersey counties, is a possibility of the near future, due to refusal of farmers whose farms have become impregnated by infected grain, to co-operate with the authorities in stamping out the pest.

Several years ago Australian "take-all," a wheat disease of very powerful nature, made its first appearance in the United States on a farm adjacent to Galesburg, Ill., while looking for "take-all," the scientists also found flag smut, another grain disease, so named because it discolors the leaves in ribbon-like stripes.

Now the Madison County Farm Bureau at Edwardsville is advised in a letter from R. M. Davidson of Springfield, director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, that there is under consideration a quarantine by county units.

The quarantine would prohibit the shipment of wheat.

During the present week agents of the State Board have been inspecting county feed threshers for summer's crop. They have disinfected 11 machines thus far and have 25 still to inspect.

Morals and Manners
Of Motorists

By Sophie Irene Loeb

A MOST pointed letter comes from a woman living in the country, and the message she sends really covers a long list of many people who live in the country and who are caused much discomfort from visiting motorists. She says:

"We rural people feel that we suffer a great deal from city motorists. We must stay at home Saturday afternoon and Sunday or our flowers will be taken and our fruit, and the trees probably broken."

"We beat up the windows of the winter with ice-bound roads, and we work hard for all we get. A nearby spring house, where the milk is cooled (the most carefully cared for place) was taken by some women motorists as a retiring room and hair dressing place."

"Pasture bars are let down or wire fencing pulled low. The cattle are let out of course. Imagine what it means to hunt for hours, horses, cows and even that night, and besides a neighbor's garden is perhaps destroyed."

"Stealing apples in the fall is the rule. The roadside are littered with luncheon remains. Fires are made under trees and more or less damage follows. In one case that I know, nine acres were burned and the firemen were exhausted as a result."

"She goes on to tell of more outrageous things done by passing motorists which she has observed in the course of several years and concludes with this appeal:

"I often wonder if you can see your way to helping these people to become a little more honest and less disgusting, for surely that would be Americanism. I have noticed that some of the offenders are foreign born. If they are, then they should get manners and morals to coincide with their cars. And to help them would help us so much."

I am inclined that she has "hit the nail on the head"—that manners and morals might well come before auto mobility.

The "out-of-sight, out-of-mind" policy will give anybody anything but a discount on his composition, than after a while, without one knowing it makes him repellent to most people, and he wonders why he hasn't any friends.

Things that one does thoughtlessly without regard to the other's interest that makes or mars that individual. Every time any one does something away from home just because he thinks he can "get away"

Six Delicious Salads Suitable for Fall Luncheons

Salads are acceptable at all times of the year, but in the fall, a hearty variety makes excellent luncheon dishes. Meat and fish salads give a meat choice, and call for some of the cooler dressings not used as frequently as mayonnaise.

Children like hard-boiled eggs used with boiled dressing if the eggs are cut in small pieces. Where they are halved or quartered they cannot manage the eggs well, and that is why they do not eat them, or say they do not like them. As a salad is always eaten with a fork, care should be taken to cut the ingredients conveniently small.

Egg Salad.

Boil fresh eggs enough to allow one and a half to a serving. Wash and dry the shells and set it to chill. Take a handful each of vinegar and water, a tablespoonful of butter, a teaspoonful of mustard, two tablespoonsfuls of sugar, a little pepper and salt. Melt this mixture, and bring it to the boiling point stirring steadily. When thickened, turn onto the beaten yolk of an egg and beat until cool. When cold, the dressing is ready for use. Arrange the lettuce leaves and cut an egg and half onto each plate. Cover with the dressing, and put a half-teaspoonful of washed capers on top of each portion.

Veal Salad.

Cut enough cold, roasted shoulder of veal in small pieces to fill two cups. Chop salad enough to make one cupful, grate one onion, and add two tablespoomfuls of washed capers. Cut up the heart of lettuce and mix all the ingredients together, first wiping the inside of the salad-bowl with a cut bud of garlic and lining it with the large, outside lettuce leaves. Make a dressing of half-a-cupful of sour cream, two tablespoomfuls of peanut butter, two tablespoomfuls of vinegar, a beaten egg, a dessertspoonful of sugar, a quarter teaspoonful of mustard and a half-teaspoonful of salt. Cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly, until thickened, then add a little paprika and set to cool. When cold, toss the salad in the dressing, then pour it into the salad-bowl. Garnish with stuffed olives.

Alligator Pear and Nut Salad.

Hollow out the pear and remove the seed from an alligator pear, then peel it and cut it in small pieces. Arrange the pear on lettuce leaves, sprinkle with a few finely-chopped celery leaves, and cover with mayonnaise. Dust the top with a satin ruffle in deep rose or limoges blue.

Orange Salad.

Slice oranges thin and dip them into French dressing made with lemon juice instead of vinegar, then roll the slices into finely-chopped walnuts. Lay the oranges on lettuce

SCHOOL MADE A JOY
By Wm. A. McKeever

A JUNIOR high school principal has hit upon a happy idea of requiring each pupil to produce a piece of laboratory work at the close of each year, and present this as part evidence of worthiness to pass.

Make something, repair something, mend something, draw something, paint something, let it be anything that can be easily and happily put yourself into the affair. Such were the instructions of this new idea of a promotion exercise, and the output of the juvenile imagination as here provided for was both surprising and pleasing. For illustration, there was brought for inspection:

A splendid variety of scrap-books. An original system of binding note books.

A set of vaulting standards.

A display of neatly dressed dolls.

An exhibit of hemstitching work.

An exhibit of darning and patching.

A specimen of amateur soldering.

A display of work in leather.

A miniature bridge made of cement.

A new pattern of wire hammock.

A full variety of bird houses and long lists of bric-a-brac.

Nowhere else have a real school in operation. It takes the latent energy of the child at the point where it is naturally ready to burst out from pressure of emotional interest. Do some kind of laboratory work. Create something and let it be that which will prove easiest and give you greatest pleasure. Such is the essence of the magical assignment which sent hundreds of boys and girls back to themselves and in a search for something dearest to do.

Moreover, could you believe it, this exercise of creative genius was to be counted as a lesson and a step toward promotion. Quis almostrum boy as he passes en route to school in the morning and he will speak of his lessons as hard and uninteresting. He will make it appear that the ordinary school requirements are to him merely something which the teacher says he must do. But here is something both easy and interesting, which your own nature says you desire to do.

CHICKEN OMELET

BOIL a good, fresh, plump hen, putting it in cold water, with an onion stuck with cloves, a bay leaf and a few stalks of celery for flavoring. When done move the chicken from the pan, pack the dishes for moving starting by putting a layer of white bread meat over the bones back, season and down the broth to half, then pour it into a bowl to cool. Take a piece of newspaper with a piece of newspaper and make a cream sauce, then add saucers and all dishes and make them fit into another. Wrap the diced chicken to one another. Make similarly packed. Wrap egg omelet in the usual way when ready to fold it, spread it in newspaper and es- tablish to protect handles with paper. Have heavy dishes at bottom. Use plenty paper padding over the top and have assured no single article moves in moving.

long way off. "I've always been—she's a little lace handchief to be folded away in my pocket. I've watched myself—my talk never let her meet any of the with their raw stories, and ways. I've sheltered her, she can't—can't you trust her? If you can't, how am I to be what you say or I?"

Very strange her voice to her; it seemed to have gone, and it ended almost on a note. His gaze was full of friendliness, and now something within him seemed suddenly to have disappeared.

"Yes, Zelle, you can believe in you! I'm ready in it. Now that you tell me this, she is under your protection—she has her—then I trust her to have no right to say that," he said, "except—that I love her, she lets me or not."

The words, slow, low and fell into a silence like a pool, as though the ripples they faded even so slowly. Zelle was averted. It was a long time before she spoke. She said the something in the world beyond window, not to him—"that could harm her anyhow. It—as if—well, nothing could star that was shining down terrestial Alley, but we'd all be up a lot by that star!"

At that he did a strange thing. He kissed her on the forehead. He went.

Zelle rubbed the spot curiously. "I know what cheeks and for Villegoisse," she observed, "that's a new one on me. It must think of church."

Hints for "Moving Day"

By EMILIE HOFFMAN

Of course all furniture must be renounced. Lemon oil is the basis of a mixture for polish. Crude lemon oil may be purchased at a nominal price at any paint shop. Dilute one part turpentine with three parts lemon oil and apply with a soft cloth to produce a high polish. This is also excellent to use on floors whether hardwood, stained or painted.

If the furniture has become dented wet the injured parts with warm water. Fold a piece of brown paper into several thicknesses, soak it in warm water and lay it over the dent. Then apply a flat flannel until the paper is dry. If the dent has not disappeared repeat the process.

If there is any old painted floor you want to stain, first cleanse it well and allow it to dry thoroughly, then apply a coat of flat color paint and allow this to dry at least two days. A second coat of the flat paint will insure perfect results, but do not apply the second coat until the first is perfectly dry. After the paint is dry apply with a varnish brush, the stain you desire.

FAIRY SALAD

TAKE a good sized smoked haddock and soak in hot water for 20 minutes. Drain, lay in a broiler, skin side down, dust with pepper, and dot quickly with butter and broil. When done, butter lightly on the brown places, add a tablespoonful of cream, and serve at once. Baked potatoes may be served.

HAM PUFFS

STIR one pint of flour into one pint boiling water and beat well. Take from fire and beat in four eggs, one at a time. Add three ounces finely chopped ham, one-half teaspoon curry powder, a pinch of cayenne and a little salt. Drop by spoonfuls into hot fat and fry a golden brown.

Use a Good Sauce or None

Sauce has a purpose. It brings out the flavor of your food. A good sauce stimulates appetite, aids digestion and enables you to adjust the skill of a good cook to your individual taste. But you must have a good sauce and that means

Significant Incidents in the Lives of Famous Women

How a Little Slave Girl Won the Thanks of Washington

PHILLIS WHEATLEY's accomplishments as an African slave girl who climbed from oblivion to fame through her untiring efforts to learn, please, and charm among the heroines of history. She did not lead an army or give her life for a cause, but by overcoming old traditions and race prejudice Phillis Wheatley opened up a new vista for her people.

Brought from her native home in Africa to Boston in 1761, when she was but 6 years of age, Phillis was sold in the slave market to Mrs. John Wheatley, wife of a Boston merchant. The little slave girl could not have been in better hands for Mrs. Wheatley was gentle and kind to her servants, and took a personal interest in them.

Phillis idolized her mistress, and wanted to become more like her. She realized that in order to do this she would have to learn, so Phillis set about studying. For a long while, after everyone else was in bed, the slave girl would get up and read for fun.

Finally, Mrs. Wheatley perceived that Phillis was unusually bright, and planned for her education.

Presently Farmer Brown's Boy turned and went back to the barn. The young Fox didn't move until Farmer Brown's Boy was out of sight. Then he jumped on his feet and started to run. He was brought up so short that he was thrown right over on his back. You see, he had come to the end of that chain. Three times the young Fox tried to run and each time the same thing happened. He understood then that he was a prisoner and worse off than he had been when he was in the barrel.

(Copyright, 1922.)

Mrs. F. Rhodes of Monticello, Ill., at the age of 80, is probably the oldest active farm woman in the country.

Wheatley sent her to England to regain her strength. Here the youthful poetess, who was then 19 years of age, won new laurels, and was received even in the presence of the nobility. Phillis Wheatley.

The first volume of Phillis Wheatley's poems to be published in England was dedicated to the Countess of Huntington. People everywhere read them and talked of their unusual beauty. Unconsciously Phillis Wheatley was opening up a new world for her people. It was discovered through her success that the African mind could be improved—something to which the majority had never even thought before.

Upon Phillis Wheatley's return to the United States after a successful year in Europe, she met and married a colored man named Peters. He treated her most unkindly, and proved himself unworthy of his brilliant wife.

This, however, did not take the mind of Phillis Wheatley from her life work. In 1776 she wrote a poem to George Washington which caused the great man to write her a long letter of congratulations and thanks, signing himself "Your obedient humble servant."

Phillis Wheatley Peters died in great poverty. She left three small children. But her story went on, and as a consequence the education of the African was taken up in many homes where ignorance might have remained had it not been for her example.

The Young Fox Is Worse Off Than Before

By Thornton W. Burgess

To get in is easy, but, turning about,
The difficult thing is to find the way out.

—Old Mr. Trouble.

THE young Fox, who was a prisoner in a barrel back of Farmer Brown's henhouse, could hear his mother at work trying to push off the stone that held in place the board over the opening in the top of the barrel. He was happy, was the young Fox. He had complete faith in his mother. Not a doubt that she would get him out of his trouble entered his head.

After a while he heard her jump to the ground. His heart suddenly sank. Could it be that she had given up trying to set him free? Could it be that she was going to leave him there, after all? Somehow he couldn't believe that. But he didn't have much time to think about it. There was a heavy step outside and then that stone was lifted off and the board was removed, letting in the light. The young Fox looked up and all hope died right then and there. You see, he looked up right into the freckled face of Farmer Brown's Boy. He knew then why his mother had jumped and left him.

"Well, well, well, see who's here!" exclaimed Farmer Brown's Boy.

At the sound of that voice the young Fox shivered all over clear to the tip of his bushy tail. He shivered and crunched down, trying to make himself as small as possible. Farmer Brown's Boy stood for a few moments looking down at his prisoner. Then he put on a stout glove which he had brought from the house for the purpose and reached down in that barrel. The young Fox tried to bite, but Farmer Brown's Boy got hold of him by the back of the neck and in spite of his struggles lifted him out.

Now, there was enough true Fox seen in the head of that young Fox to know that it would be useless to struggle and that by struggling he would only make matters worse. So he remained perfectly still. Perhaps by so doing he might get a chance to take advantage of carelessness on the part of Farmer Brown's Boy.

But Farmer Brown's Boy wasn't careless. He knows all about the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows and is not easily

APPLES.

O H, my memory now grapples
With the different kind of apples
That we used to have in good old days of yore;
Some were red and some were yellow,
They were luscious, sweet and mellow
And so good you'd even want to eat the core.

How I loved the golden russet!
How it pains me to discuss it!
For it now is but a pleasant memory,
In my days of apple stealing,
I professed a tender feeling
For that rusty-coated monarch of the tree.

I recall a certain green one
But it's years since I have seen one,
Though the farmers once were raising them galore.
In the realm of Uncle Sambo
There was nothing like the rambo
But alas! we never see it any more.

In my man'y I can taste 'em
And the apples that displaced 'em
Are insipid from the surface to the core;
And I curse the man that gave us
The magnificent "Ben Davis"
That is pleasing to the eye and nothing more.

It is certainly good looking,
But for eating or for cooking
It's a flavor of the common, garden type.
With its beauty superficial
It is purely artificial
And you'll find it tougher than a piece of tripe.

THE CURSE OF AN ACTIVE MIND.

My father, for the greater part of his life, was in the steamboat business. He was an official of a company operating packets on the lower Ohio River. The headquarters of the line was the gathering place of pilots, captains, mates, clerks and engineers—a collection of quaint types and homely physiognomies. One of the regular visitors was a grizzled master who had as quick a wit and as gorgeous an inventive faculty as any man I ever saw. His fictions and fables, told with an air of sincerity, were local classics.

I was a small boy, but I still remember it as though it were yesterday, when on a summer afternoon the talk drifted to the subject of mules. Somebody ventured the opinion that the mule was a stupid animal.

Instantly our champion romancer spoke up.

"Don't you believe it," he said. "The average mule has got more sense than the average horse has got. What's more, every mule has got something that no horse ever had—and that's imagination. Why, I know of an instance when a mule was killed by the power of his own imagination."

"It happened 40 years ago, when I was a young shaver, on my uncle's farm up the Tennessee River. My uncle owned an old gray mule. He had the mule on pasture in a 10-acre lot. In the middle of the lot was a long crib full of popcorn."

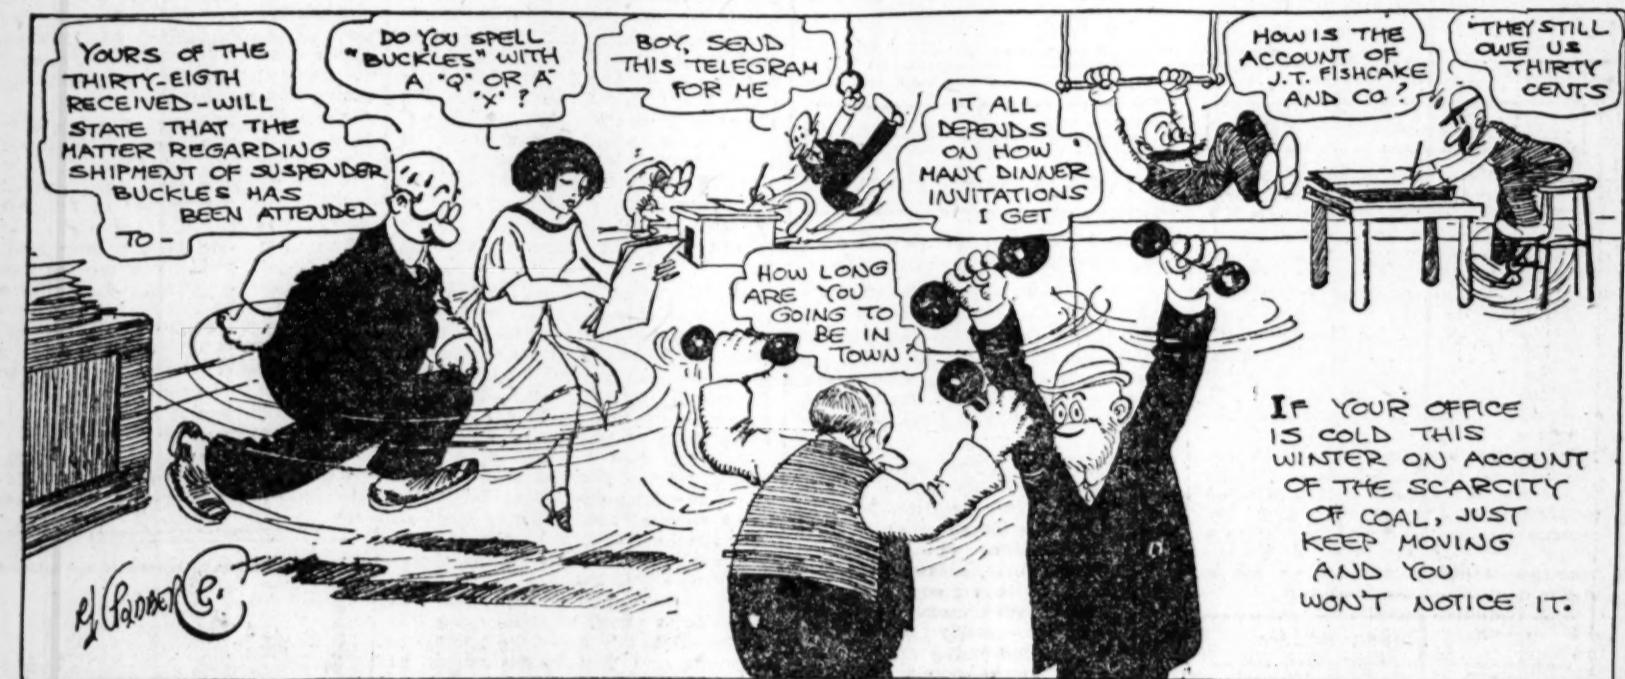

"Along about the middle of July came the most terrific hot spell that ever occurred in this country. The thermometer went to 118 in the shade and stayed right there day and night for three weeks. At the end of the third week, on the hottest day of all, the sun set fire to the roof of that crib—and it burned to the ground. Naturally, the heat popped all the corn and it fell three inches deep, all over that 10-acre lot. The mule thought it was snow and laid down in its tracks and froze to death."

Crimson Gets Three Touchdowns in First Period, but Southerners Rally, Using a Puzzling Shift.

FIELD GOAL FOR CENTRE IN SECOND

Kentuckians' Touchdown Comes Early in Fourth Period After Brilliant Playing of "Red" Roberts.

By the Associated Press STADIUM, Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 21.—Fifty thousand spectators who filled the huge horseshoe-shaped football arena of Harvard University and overflowed into temporary wooden stands at the open end of the structure, were present when Centre College of Danville, Ky., and the Crimson broke into their third football battle in the last three years.

Perfect weather and field conditions greeted the players as they took their positions on the gridiron. A late autumn sun smiled down on the scene from a cloudless sky and a light breeze blowing into the stadium did not interfere to any extent with punting and drop kicking. The turf was dry and fast and the playing field great, except near midfield, where previous practice and play had worn away the sod. Following some early and preliminary warming up, the Crimson College started first and officially on the field. The Southerners, twenty-odd strong, with their golden jerseys and brilliant green blankets, were given a round of applause as they trotted into the arena and the first team scampered onto the field for final warming up and signal drill.

Harvard's crimson jested varsity and substitutes followed shortly afterward, and, to the blare of the university band and roars and cheers among the spectators and their and alumni supporters, also went through a final passing and formation drill.

Harvard Scores Early.

Capt. Buell won the toss and elected to kick off. Gehrkne lifted the ball over the goal line. The ball was brought out to Centre's 20-yard line and on the second scrummage, Snowday fumbled after a cross field run and Flits fell on the ball for Harvard just as it rolled over the side line five yards from Centre's goal line. On the first lineup, Owen plunged through the left side of Centre's forward for a touchdown. Owen's drop kick added a point.

Score: Harvard 7; Centre 0.

Centre then kicked off from its own 40-yard line. Bucher caught the ball on his 20-yard line and regained 10 yards before he was thrown. On the first lineup, Chapin fumbled and it was Centre's ball on Harvard's 40-yard line.

Snowday and Roberts tried the line in succession without gain and then Covington just made a first down in a plunge inside of Eastman. With the ball on Harvard's 29-yard line, Covington gained two yards in a quick plunge inside of Flits. Covington's air pass was intercepted by Gherke, who was dropped by half dozen tacklers on Harvard's 21-yard line.

Open punched four yards out of Rubach. Chapin made first down in a delayed line smash outside of Shadow. A concealed ball play by Gherke added three more through Gregor. Gherke then punted the ball and it rolled over Centre's goal line.

First Down for Harvard.

Capt. Roberts smashed through Graw for a first down on Centre's 20-yard line.

Flits stopped Roberts' repetition of the play.

Covington tried a run around Hartley's end and was thrown by Dunker for a four-yard loss, notwithstanding Capt. Roberts' desperate interference. Covington then punted to Capt. Buell on Harvard's 40-yard line and the latter ran back the ball 14 yards before he was flung to the ground.

Owen dashed through Shadow for eight yards and Gherke, on delayed ball pass, ripped through the same position for a first down Centre's 27-yard line, where he was spilled by Covington.

With Capt. Roberts playing defensive for Centre, Owen again on the left flank of the Colonels for a five-yard gain and Gherke pounds through the same wing for the yards more.

Open then went through a wide hole made at Rubach's position, a first down on Centre's 10-yard line, and Owen picked up four more in
